1. We finished our phase of the [redacted] special course Friday. 25X1A It is usual to be pleased with the performance of a class at the end of a training period but this class warrants special recognition. We had eleven "live ones" comprising this group. They were enthusiastic, inquiring, interested, argumentative, convincible (brave, clean and reverent). They were a joy to be with. Someone or something should get a lot of credit for creating such a spirited group. It was either excellent recruiting or else the imminence of their departure turned them into believers. Would that all trainees were as cooperative and fired up!

2. [redacted] desk a 13-page analysis of the status of World Communism, with specific stress on Latin America. It certainly could be delivered as a speech by the [redacted] City. In addition, [redacted] provided several selected articles and readings. However, [redacted] has received since the luncheon he and [redacted] had with the [redacted] a list of eighteen questions the latter would like answered. The range of the questions is fairly sweeping. Here are a few:

"In view of the prospect that unity or movements under the flag of international Communism is hard, what are the prospect of international cooperative organizations? Under ChiCom? Under Soviet Russia? Latin American working body, AA working group?"

"Installations (official and unofficial) belonging to North Korea and ChiCom, located in Latin American countries (embassies, press, trade and cultural missions, etc.)?"

DOCUMENT NO. [redacted]

NO CHANGE IN CLASS.

"Visits made by Communist block countries to LA nations in the last 3 years (important figures, goodwill, trade missions etc.)?"

25X1A Several of the questions listed, however, relate to material we are fairly well on top of and we will send as much as we can to [REDACTED] this week.

25X1A 3. [REDACTED] DDP Training Officer, was briefed Thursday morning on the courses and range of activities of SIC. He was particularly interested in the newly organized combination ACO-CPO&O which begins Tuesday, October 26. He also indicated the presentation [REDACTED] would seem to be especially valuable and will publicize the appearance within DDP to try to get a good-sized audience.
